Change the implementation of the 1st of April joke so that any input is swallowed with the exception of 'd' or 'l' to avoid changing anything to previously selected images.

I tried just now and couldn't get dt to do anything to the images. The steps I did were:

- change dt to always think it's April 1st & recompile
- start dt, hit 'l'
- select images
- close dt
- start dt
- press number keys
- press 'l'

After those steps I assumed to have some changed ratings but that was not the case. Do you have any steps I can try to see that there is a problem?

I'll try to recreate the incident tonight or tomorrow, did you use the number keys or the ones on the alphanumeric part of the keyboard? Qwerty or Azerty layout?

Top row of an Qwertz keyboard. But that shouldn't matter.

Tried recreatiing the issue, failed miserably. I suppose I did something stupid. Ticket can be closed.
