Description

I would love for the ability to re-order the modules in the GUI. To be clear I am not saying I want to change the order in the pixel-pipe, just the GUI. I make extensive use of the "Favorites" to help me find what I use most, but I'd still love to reorder them. I have a general set of steps I like to go through with nearly all images (and I suspect most shooters do), which I typically do in a very similar order, so it would only make sense to have the modules arranged in this order.

Sorry about the duplicate, I had searched through the list prior to posting, but since that is "Closed, won't fix" it wasn't put in to the generated excel file I used to find pre-existing issues.
