Description

A few weeks back i was using 2.4.0 with no issues. I kept shooting and at some point the photos stopped importing properly or reading the white balance. I tried updating to 2.4.1 and there's no change. Photos import properly if taken with digiCamControl, but not from directly on camera. The opening error with White Balance looks like older errors I've seen with older versions of the software, but I can't find anything matching the opening error.

It happens on some raws only, sadly.

The fix is planned. See the issue i added as related.

Sorry for the trouble :(
