Description

Please add support for the Fujifilm X-T100.

I tried uploading a RAW file to raw.pixls.us, but I kept getting this error (tried other browser, tried host with 100Mbit/s instead of 10Mbit/s).

"The file either already exists, the CC0/modified checkboxes weren't checked, or you forgot to choose a file. Please go back and try again."

Someone who is able to upload, please grab the RAW here:

The samples need to be there, before the support can be added.
It would seem, that camera only produces one raw format (uncompressed), so just one sample is needed.
The upload was indeed broken, thanks for notifying, sorry about that :( Please try again now :)

File is now uploaded (but not yet visible in the table on the site).

As per the comment on raw.pixls.us, I took a RAW picture with a landscape and tried to upload it. However, I got the upload problem again. (DSCF0627.RAF)

I saw you added the Fujifilm X-T100 to the list of supported cameras. Please add the Fujifilm X-A5 as well. The file format should be the same as the X-T100 (and the X-A3). Identical resolution, practically identical sensor, identical noise-behaviour etc. A big thanks from the Fujifilm owners!
